Having worked on hundreds of hours of high quality films/television productions as a freelance editor, I am comfortable working on a wide range of different genres, formats and deadlines.

Strong storytelling skills, experience and speed allows me to deliver both quality and creativity to the edit.

Working tirelessly to achieve the very best for the material, I have a great respect for subject, contributors and the work that has gone before the edit.

I enjoy editing in any post production environment, be that a close partnership with a producer/director on a high value film production, or as part of a pool of editors and edit producers, cutting story and compiling on quick turnaround formats.

Happy to work on challenging location edits with extremely tight deadlines, or delivering the entire picture post production for primetime national series.

I take pride in delivering outstanding results for my clients.
